TRANCO GLOBAL EXPANDS INTO ATLANTA

Local International Logistics Newcomer Grows into New Atlanta Office Faster Than Predicted

Chattanooga, Tennessee - Tennessee-based TRANCO Global today announced the opening of a new office in Atlanta, Georgia to satisfy the airfreight demand of its customers and overseas agents. The new office's goal is to provide TRANCO Global and its customers convenient access to US Customs, container freight stations, and the international air cargo community.

“The opening of an Atlanta office underscores our ongoing commitment to offer unparalleled service to our current and future customers,” said COO Brad Kemp. “We’re excited to be in Atlanta and welcome our newest employees. This opening will support the robust growth and expansion by companies in the southeastern United States.”

TRANCO Global has experienced an over 800% growth in business levels over the past year, with airfreight taking a forefront in this increase.

“With more commercial flights than any other airport in the world, opening an Atlanta office allows us to expand our freight capabilities,” said Kemp. “This Atlanta expansion occurring well in advance of our early projections also moves up the scheduled opening dates for TRANCO Global's offices at O'Hare International, Los Angeles International and John F. Kennedy International airports."
